OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Monday - 20 August 1962

STAT

1. [] Talked with Bill Jordan in Senator Russell's office who advised the Senator could not see Mr. McCone either Monday or Tuesday as had been suggested. It was further added that since Mr. McCone was going away, Senator Russell would be happy to work with General Carter thereafter. If the Director wished to see the Senator later in the week, Jordan suggested we call about Wednesday or Thursday.

STAT

2. [] General Roderick in the office of Legislative Liaison for Secretary McNamara telephoned concerning the Cunningham amendment to the Postal Rate Bill. He had been discussing this provision with various people in DOD and was inquiring what we knew about it. I explained my knowledge of the situation including the fact that Richard Donahue of the White House apparently was spearheading the Administration's efforts. He thanked me for this information.

STAT

3. [] John Jackson, in the office of Senator Leverett Saltonstall, called to mention a project which he has been considering which would involve his taking an 18-month leave of absence from his present position to work on a paper on comparative governments. He said he would like to work for a member of Parliament in Britain and work in a similar position in France and in the Congo and possibly travel behind the Iron Curtain. He said he would like to discuss this with us sometime at our convenience.
